FLOYD STOCKTON DIES AS OTHERS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Ontario Motorists Suffer Severe Injuries in Crash At Barstow

P. E. CAR HITS AUTO

Mrs. Dorothea Drew Lucas Critically Hurt When Auto Overturns

Traffic accident involving residents of the district over the week-end resulted in one death today and injury to several other persons.

Floyd Stockton, 427 East J street, Ontario, died at the San Antonio Community hospital late yesterday afternoon as the result of injuries he suffered in a crash at Barstow Saturday.

Seriously injured in the same crash was Mrs. Dorothea Drew Lucas. While she is expected to recover, much concern is shown at the hospital over her condition. Robert Hanawalt, LaVerne, reported to be driver of the car involved in the crash, is suffering from a fractured skull. He is at the Pomona Valley hospital.

Also injured in the crash was Mrs. Floyd Stockton, widow of the dead man. Her injuries are not serious.

Cause of the accident is not known. Hanawalt was driving east on the Arrowhead trail. His machine is reported to have skidded more than 200 feet and then overturned several times. The occupants were thrown out through the top of the car.

Miraculously escaping serious injury, William W. Nix, Claremont, suffered shock and severe bruises when the machine he was driving was struck by a Pacific Electric west-bound train at Central avenue Saturday afternoon. He was removed from the San Antonio Community hospital to his home yesterday.

A. J. Hand, 459½ First avenue, Upland, figured in an accident at Euclid avenue and A street, Ontario, Saturday night, but no one was injured.

Several other accidents occurred in the district over the week-end, but no Uplanders were involved.

Frank Lopez, Cucamonga, died after his car had collided with another machine on Foothill boulevard east of Rialto Saturday.

Little Marilyn Marie Paulin has been given a cordial welcome into the family circle, with a number of happy relatives joining in the reception. The baby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Paulin of the Mehl apartments, was born at San Antonio Community hospital Friday night and weighed 7 pounds 11 ounces. She has a small brother, Billy, and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. Grace Paulin and of Mr. and Mrs. Lester P. Jones.

RELIEF FUND NOW OVER $600 MARK

Etiwanda District Raises $50 to Aid Flood Sufferers in Eastern Disasters

Subscriptions to aid in rehabilitating sufferers in eastern floods continue to come into the Upland chapter of the Red Cross. The total amount contributed up to noon today is $600.55. Of this amount $50 has been raised at Etiwanda, that district being included in the territory of the Upland chapter.

Contributions will be received at the First National bank of Upland and Bank of America in this city.

In all probability there will be another call by the National Red Cross for more money to aid those who have suffered so greatly in losses in many of the eastern states.

Quota for the Upland Red Cross chapter was first set at $300. Within a few days the amount was increased to $450. This final amount has been oversubscribed by more than $150—and much praise has come from district Red Cross officials for the generous manner in which the people here have contributed.

Men To Aid Woman's Club

$2.50 Plate Dinner Will Be Held May 1 As Second Annual Benefit Event

Men of the community are going to aid members of the Upland Woman's club in a second annual benefit dinner. Proceeds of the dinner will go to the club fund to defray interest payments and to reduce the principal on the loan.

The dinner will be held Friday evening, May 1. Cost of the tickets will be $2.50. Two years ago when the benefit dinner plan was started, the tickets were $5. In order to appeal to more people and to get the entire community back of the plan, the ticket charge was reduced this year. An appeal will be made for the general public to buy tickets and an active ticket selling campaign will be administered by L. R. Bradley.

The club membership and the club building are outstanding assets for the community. The women are active in providing worthwhile civic and educational programs for the community, but their work is handicapped partly due to the debt against the building.

In recognition of the club activities and efforts, various men in the community are taking the lead in providing a method to aid in meeting the interest and in reducing the debt.

The tickets will be sold by various individuals and will be probably available at several stores.

An entertaining program is being planned, in addition to a delicious dinner.

TWO NEW HOUSES WILL GO UP SOON

H. A. Cramer, Dr. Wing, Both Of Ontario, Buy Lots in College Heights

Arrangements are being made for the construction of two new houses in the College Heights tract on Ninth street in the western part of Upland.

H. A. Cramer, veteran employe of the General Electric Appliance Co. plant at Ontario, has purchased two acres of land, part of which is being cleared at present for the site of an attractive house. His new property is just east of the Paul Fernbach residence, the most easterly structure in the tract.

Dr. George Wing, Ontario dentist, has purchased a lot adjoining the Cramer property on the east, and he plans to erect a dwelling in the immediate future.

Churches To Hold Union Good Friday Services April 10

The Rev. Paul F. Huebner, pastor of the Upland Methodist church, will be the speaker at the Good Friday service to be held on Friday afternoon, April 10, in the Brethren in Christ church.

The service will begin at 3 o'clock, continuing until 4, and special music will be provided by the choir of the Brethren in Christ church.

This inspiring service is to be one of prayerful meditation and devotion and members of all the churches in the community and the public in general are invited to attend.

Rebekahs Will Hold Meeting and Easter Party Friday Night

Silver Link Rebekah lodge will meet in regular session on Friday evening, April 10, at 8 o'clock, in the I. O. O. F. hall, it is announced by the noble grand, Mrs. Harold B. Anderson, who will preside.

Following the lodge session, an Easter party will be held and an enjoyable evening is assured.

Sales Tax Repeal To Mean Disaster, Grier Declares

Of interest to every land owner is the fight to repeal the sales tax and the tax on personal property and to substitute a single tax on real estate.

G. E. Grier, chairman of the board of supervisors, said that adoption of this proposal will mean bankruptcy for the state and the various political subdivisions. The Uplander's remarks concerned a meeting to be held in Fontana Friday night when the tax situation will be discussed. The meeting is sponsored by the county chamber of commerce.

The sales tax-personal property tax repeal will be voted on at the November election. The measure is so worded that if the sales tax is repealed, the single tax on land will be substituted. The measure provides that land solely shall be taxed both for state and local purposes, according to Mr. Grier.

Tht general public is invited to the Fontana meeting.

VOTERS TO ELECT ON NEXT TUESDAY

Two City Council Positions Will Be Filled as Five In Contest

One week from today Upland voters will be at the polls selecting two city councilmen to serve on the municipal board for four years.

Voters will elect a successor to P. H. McQuillen, who is retiring after having served for eight years.

Five men are seeking the two positions. The candidates are Earl E. Hawthorne, V. H. Wilson, Ernest Olson, C. E. Tyler and Godfrey Andreas, the latter being an incumbent who is seeking reelection for his second term. Considerable interest is being shown in the election and a large vote is anticipated.

Also on the ballot will be the names of Ernest C. Mehl, for city clerk, and Owen E. Atwood, for city treasurer. Both are unopposed.

Glass for Record Telescope Will Go Through Here Soon

The world's largest mirror is scheduled to pass through Upland enroute to Pasadena Friday on the Santa Fe. The glass will be fitted for installation in a large observatory to be erected at Palomar mountain in San Diego. The observatory is being constructed under the direction of the California Institute of Technology.

The glass is being brought on a special freight train from New York. The train travels only in the day time at a speed not over 25 miles per hour. The train is scheduled to arrive in San Bernardino Thursday night and will go through Upland Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whiteley Are Now In Monrovia Home

After living in Upland for several years and becoming prominently identified with the activities of the community, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whiteley moved Saturday to Monrovia and are now pleasantly located at 366 North Encinitas avenue. Mr. Whiteley recently was transferred to Monrovia as Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific agent.

Mrs. Whiteley, who is president of the Upland Woman's club, states she will continue to carry on her work for the club until the end of the club year. Mrs. Whiteley will return to Upland frequently, and between her visits here any club affairs will be taken care of by Mrs. Ray R. Sherwood, vice-president.

Uplanders To Visit Johnstown, Scene of Disastrous Floods

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Oswald and family are going back to Johnstown, Penn., next week to visit ruin and waste left in their home town by the disastrous flood of last month. Until five years ago they resided there. Her mother, Mrs. Bertha Potter, was among the survivors of the flood. She was also residing near Johnstown in flood of 1889 that took such a heavy toll in lives.

"She has written that the water was higher in the last flood than it was in the other big flood, but of course there were not so many killed and the buildings now are stronger and were able to stand up," Mrs. Oswald said today in telling of letters and pictures from her mother.

Mrs. Oswald's cousin, a young girl, was trapped in a downtown store building over night. Her parents did not know of her fate until she was able to get home the next day.

"Yes, the flood went right down the business district, flooded the stores, the postoffice and everything," the Upland woman explained in telling of the confusion, turmoil and suffering that was experienced by many people she knows.

For some time the local couple had planned to make the trip "back to their home town," the excursion not being planned just since the flood. They will be greatly interested, however, to see the wreckage and damage wrought by the storm waters.

Market Building To Go Up on Foothill

Sale of a site for a market building and of a residence on Foothill boulevard and final approval of subdivision plans were announced today by H. F. Naisbitt.

The county planning commission approved the plot of the subdivision of the property adjacent to Foothill boulevard east of Grove avenue. The subdivision is to be known as Red Hill Estates addition.

The property will be divided into residential lots and into business sites. The addition concerns the property east of Grove between San Bernardino road and the property on the north side of Foothill, between Kramer Bros. nursery and the new auto court.

Arrangements are being made for the construction of a market building fronting on Foothill west of the new auto court but details of this project were not available for publication.

Perry Long Wins In Suit for Damages

Perry O. Long was given judgment over Philip Martinez in a damage suit filed after an auto accident on Ninth street. The accident occurred last August. Martinez sued Mr. Long through an insurance concern for $61 while Mr. Long filed a counter suit for $14.

Judge J. F. Hamilton presided in the hearing held several weeks ago, the decision being just announced. Mr. Long was given judgment and was relieved of paying his share of the court cost.

SEVENTH STREET WILL BE RAISED

Dirt From Aqueduct Trench Will Be Placed on Highway Soon

Another major improvement to get underway in the new annexation district soon will be the raising of the level of Seventh street and paving of the artery. Dirt taken from the Metropolitan Water district aqueduct trench as it is dug through Ontario will be placed on Seventh street. Work of digging the trench is underway in the Fontana district and as it nears Ontario the dirt will be placed on Seventh street.

For years flood water has gutted Seventh street and the artery cannot be effectively improved until the level is raised, in the opinion of Richard G. Manley, city service manager.

Improvements underway in that district now include installation of a new sewer system, new curbs and general property improvements.

6000 RESIDENTS HERE, TOTAL OF VOTE LIST SHOWS

Registration of 2525 For May Primaries Basis of Estimate

LARGE TOTAL IN COUNTY

Upland Republicans Out-Number Democrats—Alta Loma G. O. P.

Approximately 6000 people reside in Upland. This figure is determined on the basis of registrations just completed for the May presidential primaries. A total of 2525 people in Upland have qualified for the balloting. A ratio of 2.7 is used by Harry L. Allison, county clerk, in figuring the county population. This ratio is considered high as such a figure would make this city's population at more than 6800.

A more conservative ratio of 2.4 is used in arriving at an estimate of 6060 as today's population in Upland.

Registration for the election in the township totals 2925. Using the ratio of 2.4, the township population is estimated at 7010.

This city's population has increased through a natural growth being made by all Southern California cities and by the annexation a year ago of the new district north of Sixth street, Ontario.

Of the city's registered voters, 1409 are Republicans, 927 Democrats, 114 declined to state, and 75 are in the minor parties.

Communities with a Republican majority in the county are Upland, Ontario, Etiwanda, Alta Loma, Redlands and Fontana. The remainder of the cities and communities have Democratic majorities.

Total registration in the county is 63,513. Of this total, 33,265, or 52.3 per cent, are Democrats, and 27,237, or 42.8 per cent, are Republicans.

In Ontario the registration total is 6241, of which 3144 are Republican and 2790 are Democratic. Registration totals of other districts in the Upland area and their classification follow:

Alta Loma: 376 total; 215 Republicans, 152 Democrats.

Cucamonga: 624 total; 271 Republicans, 335 Democrats.

Etiwanda: 260 total; 132 Republicans, 98 Democrats.

Uplanders Aid in Chaffey Judging

Leslie Standlea, member of the Chaffey "B" stock judging team, placed first in total points in the judging contest at the annual Perris field day Saturday. His rating as high individual was obtained by making a high score in all types of judging. The Chaffey A and B livestock teams placed first in the competition.

The dairy judging team was also high. Eugene Strawn and Curtis Longanecker of Upland are on the B team.

POSTAL BUILDING AWAITS ALLOTMENT

Congress Must Act Before Money Available for Upland Structure

Immediate construction of a new postoffice in Upland depends largely upon the amount of money appropriated by Congress at the current session, according to word received by The Upland News from W. E. Reynolds, assistant director of procurement of the United States treasury department.

"Upland is on the list of eligible projects from which selections will be made by the treasury-post office committee in formulating a public building program in the event funds therefor are provided by Congress at the present session," Mr. Reyonlds said in a letter to The News.

"The number of places that can be approved is dependent upon the amount of the appropriation, if made. Therefore, it is not known at this time as to how many of the eligible projects can be reached."

Views Given On Fireworks

Some Uplanders Favor Restrictions on July 4; Others Want to Shoot Firecrackers

"How do you think fireworks should be controlled, if at all?" "At present Upland has a law of prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks" "Do you think that the law should be maintained or should it be changed?"

These questions concerning fireworks were presented to five Uplanders today by The News. While it is several months be- July 4, the question of fireworks comes before the city council from time to time. Views of the Uplanders interviewed follow:

W. J. Kermott: "I wouldn't advise the use of fire crakers any place in town because there have been a lot of accidents and fires caused by them. Perhaps it would be satisfactory to allow them in a restricted area where there was close supervision. I like to go out and watch the fireworks like we have been having them the last year or two."

Howard Mason: "It is a two-sided question no doubt, but I feel that the kids are entitled to the fun. When we were kids there would have been a terrible howl if there had been a restriction. Perhaps the business district should be protected, but I believe that elsewhere the fireworks should be permitted on July 4."

Eric Rhenstrom: "I believe that the fireworks should be restricted. No doubt the kids get a lot of fun in shooting them off, but nevertheless I don't believe their fun justifies the risks taken in injury to people and damage to property. From my own experience, I have no use for fireworks. Back in my home town, I saw a big store building go up in fire. We live in Ontario and there was so much noise on our street on July 4th last year that I got my 'fill' of fire crackers."

Mrs. David Vasbinder: "I am in favor of the present plan, of not allowing fireworks here in town, but to have a fine display at Red Hill as we have been having in recent years. I'll tell you why. There are some children who can afford all the fireworks they want. There are others who haven't any money to buy any. There is nothing more pitiful, I believe, than a child who is unable to have any fireworks, financially, but wants them very bad. As it is, no children can have them and there is not that yearning and disappointment."

Charles Hall: "Remember we were kids once. I don't believe we should deprive today's young people of the fun of fireworks. It would be wise, however, to protect the business district. If parents would be with their children and assist them with the fireworks I don't believe there would be any danger of loss by fire."

LEARN HISTORY THROUGH NOVELS

Speaker Tells How Novels Changed Monotonous Travel To Trips of Interest

A man who has crossed the country ten times a year for 21 years—five times each way—told Rotarians how these trips were changed from a bored existence to extreme enjoyment. This man is Milton Chapman of Upland, representative of the orange by-products plant in Ontario. Mr. Chapman said his trips were so numerous and often than in practically all small towns through which he passed he recognized residents he had seen on previous trips. All the large cities were known to him. He was bored—and bored perhaps because he did not know the background, he said.

But all this was changed, said Mr. Chapman, when he hit upon the idea of reading novels containing historical settings and characters. Mr. Chapman told of his visit to James Whitcomb Riley and of being shown the place and told of the characters which inspired "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." "Study the novel as a piece of literature to live with," he urged. Thus will your aspect be changed so that you see the beautiful things. He noted the Madonna of the Trail monument in Upland as marking a milestone in pioneer progress. "After all, we live by romance—whether we admit it or not'" he continued, "and if you wish to see romance see it through the American novel." Mr. Chapman's address was decidedly interesting.

The club was glad to have a former member, Archie Moore, at today's meeting and to hear his unsurpassable rendition of "Old Man River."

P. H. McQuillen announced the Upland day program to be given by The Los Angeles Times on Thursday and also told of the Second district Rotary convention to be held at Berkeley May 25-27.

Oratorio Society To Sing Holy City On Friday Night

As its Easter musical offering for the community, the Oratorio society will present Gual's "Holy City" at the Upland Mennonite church Friday evening, the program beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Oratorio society, directed by the Rev. Lester Hostetler, pastor of the Mennonite church, includes many of the best voices in the West End communities and the singing of the "Holy City" Friday night is certain to be an inspiring treat for all who attend.

The public is cordially invited to be present.

UNION SERVICE AT SUNRISE ON EASTER

All Churches Will Unite in Service To Be Held at Camp Baldy

Sponsored by the Ontario-Upland Ministerial Union, annual union Easter sunrise service to be held near Camp Baldy is expected to draw hundreds of persons from all valley communities.

The service will be held at Sunrise Point, an elevation in San Antonio canyon near Camp Baldy, and will open just as the first rays of the rising sun tip the summit at 6:30 on Easter morning.

The inspiring service will include a varied program. Four ministers, Dr. R. C. Stone of the Upland Presbyterian church, the Rev. Lester Hostetler of the Upland Mennonite church, Rev. Chas. L. Knight of Bethel Congregational church in Ontario, and the Rev. Arthur E. Schultz of the First Methodist church in Ontario, will each speak briefly and there will be several appropriate musical numbers, including community singing.

Residents of the entire valley are invited to attend the service.

Miss Ella Groff arrived in Upland last night from Sacramento and surprised her parents here. She came to be with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Groff, who is ill at the Groff home on Sixth avenue. Her condition is better, she being cheered by the arrival of her daughter. Miss Groff is a nurse at a Sacramento hospital.

Fireworks Display In July Planned; Other Events Too

Steps to secure the WPA concert band in Upland the Fourth of July have been taken.

The request has been made by Leigh Thompson, chairman of the chamber of commerce fireworks committee. No definite plans have been made for a community program.

At the same time the request was made, it appeared likely the new city park would be far enough along to be the setting for a community celebration. Definite plans for a July 4th program will be delayed until more is known about the park situation.

Mr. Thompson is nevertheless making plans for an display of fireworks July 4 and it is expected Lone Hill will be the scene of the sky display as it has in recent years. Each year's fireworks exhibition has been better than the former year's. Preparations are already being made for the display in July.

INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN VISIT TO L. A. TIMES

Upland Day Thursday Will Attract Many to Newspaper Building

INVITATION IS EXTENDED

Individuals To Make Up Own Parties and to Provide Transportation

Number of visitors to the new Los Angeles Times building from the Upland district may total several hundred, it was indicated today as interest was being shown in the "Upland Day" event.

The new, huge, attractive and complete newspaper building in Los Angeles will be open to public inspection for everyone from here Thursday from 2:30 o'clock until late at night. General arrangements are being handled by the chamber of commerce, but individuals are expected to make their own arrangements for transportation into Los Angeles and to make up parties in visiting the building.

Specially trained guides will meet the visitors from Upland in the lobby of the building and show them to various parts of the big structure. Many departments will be busy in the actual production of the paper from 2:30 o'clock on, that being the reason for visiting hours being set at that time.

An interesting feature will be the wirephoto section, where can be seen the machines that receive and also transmit pictures a few minutes after an event occurs. Through the news departments, the visitors will be taken through the mechanical departments, where the detailed process of producing a paper can be followed.

The general public from here is invited to the building. Additional information about the tour or special arrangements for transportation can be provided by Avery S. Allen, chamber of commerce secretary.

In a letter to Mayor P. H. McQuillen, Verne W. Bailey, public relations director of The Times, cordially invited Uplanders to visit the building.

"During these hours we will have guides to show your citizens how a metropolitan newspaper is made in one of the world's most modern newspaper plants and do our best to make your visit here most pleasant and worthwhile," Mr. Bailey said.

"May I take this occasion to extend felicitations and express appreciation to your fine city and to its good people."

Mrs. Maude Goyen came over from San Bernardino this morning for a visit of two days with her mother, Mrs. S. J. Brooks, and her sister, Mrs. Jas. E. Goodban, and other relatives.

RODEO UNLIKELY FOR THIS YEAR

Highway Patrolmen Face Obstacle and Event May Not Be Held

While no definite action has been taken, Captain Frank J. Freeman of the San Bernardino unit of the California highway patrol, said today it appeared very doubtful if the annual rodeo would be presented here this fall. A meeting to decide on this year's event was scheduled for last night but it was not held. Definite action is promised for next Monday.

Ray Ingells, director of the highway patrol division, has prohibited the patrolmen from soliciting advertising for the rodeo program.

"It costs about $3000 to sponsor the rodeo and in case we had a poor day, we would have nothing to fall back on and we would be 'sunk'," Captain Freeman explained. "For that reason I doubt if the rodeo will be held. That is, unless we find some other means of guaranteeing us enough money to at least pay expenses."

The rodeo has been held in the past to raise money for the widows' and orphans' fund maintained by the highway patrolmen of San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

Hostel Plan Cuts Travel Costs for Youth

Young people wanting to travel on meager funds might well turn to the plan developed in Europe, called the Youth Hostel Movement. Hostels, according to T. D. Young of England in the Rotarian magazine, originated in Germany almost a quarter of a century ago. Youth Hostel Associations have now been organized in no less than 17 countries. Last year they were started in the United States. But what is this new movement for youth, and what is its purpose?

"In a word," says Mr. Young, "it may be said that the movement represents youth's perennial urge to break away and go out and beyond. More than that, perhaps, it is a movement away from the restrictions of cities and formal mechanized existence, to greater freedom of nature. To the woods and the mountains and the rivers, wherever the air is pure and the scenery sweet and clean. Because a means has been provided whereby they can do it cheaply, conveniently, and safely, it is called a movement. Perhaps it is.

"The hostels, themselves," he continues, "have increased in number enormously. A hostel is not exactly a hotel, but it serves the purpose. Some of the hostels are extremely handsome buildings. Others are quite modest and simple. There is no uniformity, no desire for it. In all of them, however, a few basic requirements are met.

"Each has a common room, usually with a fireplace, especially used for evening gatherings. Each has cooking facilities and separate dormitories and washing and toilet facilities for boys and girls. The cost for a night's lodging is 25 cents or less. This includes bed and blankets. But each guest must provide, or rent for the night, a'schlafsack'. This is a kind of sleeping bag that is really only a couple of half-sheets sewed together at the bottom and provided with tie-strings.

"Each guest provides his or her own food, usually buying it locally so as not to overburden the rucksack which every wanderer carries. It is cooked and eaten in the hostel. Each hostel is in charge of resident wardens—usually a man and his wife who have a flair for young people.

"The rules in hostels," he explains, "are few and simple. There is no service. You help yourself. Conduct must be orderly, but there are few police-like 'musts'. Smoking and alcoholic liquors are prohibited. You are not supposed to stay more than a night at the same hostel, but if there is no incoming rush, it is all right. People above 18, except members, are not ordinarily received as guests; and in any case, those who are younger have first call. The one ironclad rule is that the guest must leave his lodging neater than he found it, if possible.

"Today, these hostels are so numerous in several countries in Europe that it is possible to arrange an easy itinerary and spend every night at one, touring weeks at a time in this exceedingly economical and delightful way. A hostel usually is to be found near every scenic center. In 1934, the number of hostels was reckoned to be 2,600, and the number of guests 4,500,000.

"Last year the first hostel was established in the United States at East Northfield, Massachusetts. Almost overnight, a 'loop' of 36 hostels or hikers' inns were established along a 400-mile trail through the White and Green Mountains of New England. It is expected that more loops will be organized in other parts of the country—especially in regions with historic as well as scenic interest.

"The movement in Europe is financed by city governments, service clubs, park commissions, and the people themselves. Local sponsorship is usually necessary to establish hostels. There is usually some business advantage in having a hostel in a community. It does not replace hotels, because commercial travelers and adult tourists of the usual type are not accommodated. It stimulates additional travel by youths who would not otherwise find it possible to go."

People throughout a large area of Southern California have become thoroughly aroused and indignant over conditions which exist at the beaches—which are said to be getting worse year after year instead of better. Last year at Easter time we noted in this column conditions which prevailed at Balboa, where over the Easter vacation they were notoriously bad. One party who has apartments to rent stated conditions were the worst ever known there—drunkenness and loud conduct prevailing in a most deplorable manner. This year there has been much comment in the papers regarding such conditions—and when our own local Parent-Teacher association takes up the matter the people should realize conditions at the beaches are not what they should be. It is not the idea that the young people should be deprived of an enjoyable vacation during Easter week, but they should be properly chaperoned and conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen. And that applies to all other times during the year as well as Easter.

Miss Eunice Stoebe Becomes Bride of Arvid E. Lewis

In a beautifully arranged wedding occurring at the home of the bridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Stoebe, 1393 North Hermosa avenue, Alta Loma, Miss Eunice Eloise Stoebe and Arvid Elton Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lewis of Campus avenue, Upland, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock, in the presence of more than 60 relatives and friends, a number of guests coming from other cities.

The Stoebe home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the Easter motif of green and white being employed. White apple blossoms with their slight tinge of pink, blended with quantities of snowy bridal wreath and fernery adorned the ceremony room. Against a background of greenry was a bridal arch of apple blossoms and fernery and it was while standing beneath the arch that the happy young couple exchanged the marriage vows.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Kathleen Beckley sang "Because," and two other nuptial songs, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me," were sung by Miss Lucille Stoebe, with the bride's cousin, Mrs. Keith Proctor of Desert City, serving as accompanist. Mrs. Proctor also played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," heralding the entrance of the bridal party.

Escorted by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white satin and point lace, fashioned with long train, and she wore a halo veil. Her shower bouquet was white carnations and stock with lilies-of-the-valley and maidenhair fern.

Accompanying the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Lucille Stoebe, wearing a touquoise blue georgette silk with pink floral trimming and carrying an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas and fernery.

The bridesmaids were Miss Martha Gaines, Miss Margaret Kilpatrick and Miss Kathleen Beckley, all in fetching pink frocks of varying designs and materials, and carrying arm bouquets of pink sweet peas and blue delphinium with maidenhair fern.

Martin Lewis, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and his three attendants were Wallace Stoebe, cousin of the bride, Donald Stoebe, her brother, and Richard Beckley.

Serving as flower girl and ring bearer were Dolores Stoebe, wearing a yellow dotted Swiss frock and carrying a basket of pink sweet peas, and her brother, Dwane Stoebe, bearing the ring, both being small second cousins of the bride.

The marriage service was read by the Rev. S. J. Lindsay, pastor of the Cucamonga Community church.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding collation was served to the large company of guests, the bride cutting the handsome wedding cake. Mrs. Stoebe wore a gown of pale yellow taffeta with a corsage of Talisman roses and Mrs. W. G. Lewis was attired in a costume of ashes of roses crepe and her corsage was white sweet peas.

The bride is a native of Alta Loma and is a graduate of Chaffey. Mr. Lewis came from Colorado a few years ago and he is now employed by the American Fruit Growers association.

After a short motor honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will make their home in Alta Loma.

A good location is essential for a god home. Red Hill Estates has all the requirements. Ask those who live there.—Adv. 88tf

Miss Jolly Heard by Club Women From Several Groups

Declaring that women in business and professional life are not striving to excell men's accomplishments, niether do they want to enter into competition for men's jobs in a man's world, Miss Louise Jolly of Alameda, state membership chairman for the California Business and Professional Women's clubs, spoke last evening at the meeting of the San Bernardino County Council of Business and Professional Women's club, held in the Upland Inn.

Mrs. Maud M. Linsley, president of the County Council and also president of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club, presided during the session and at the opening of the program that followed the dinner, several musical numbers were presented, the participants being among those who took part in the recent amateur night program sponsored by the local club. Robert Fleming played a group of piano numbers and Miss Peggy Grahame, whose excellent voice is well known, sang two songs, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Benson.

During her address Miss Jolly, who is slated for the office of second vice-president of the state federation, stressed the importance of organized business women making greater efforts to place their real objectives before the public, especially before the men in business life, in the proper light. Their major objective, Miss Jolly declared to be the bettering of humanity and securing a fair chance for all.

She urged continuous effort toward increased efficiency and declared that the woman who aspires to make a secure place for herself in the business world should never cease to grow and should be equipped to perform more than one kind of work.

Miss Jolly's talk was truly inspiring and was received with enthusiasm by her audience.

Club women were present from the Alameda, Riverside, Colton, Ontario and Upland clubs and it was noted with interest the number of prominent officers and chairmen present.

Miss Jolly, state membership chairman, was accompanied by Dr. Alice E. Burke, president of the Alameda club; others present were Mrs. Florenc Bayz of Riverside, junior past district president and now chairman of the state speakers bureau; Miss Dana Williams of Ontario, district president; Mrs. Una R. Winter of Upland, district hospitality chairman; Mrs. Margaret Chase of Riverside, district membership chairman; Miss Vivian McCarty of Cucamonga, member of the Upland club and district attendance chairman; Mrs. Mada Montgomery, president of the Ontario club, and Mrs. Olive E. Clark, president of the Colton club.

Miss Mary Clark Is To Become Bride Of Claude Wick

An announcement that will be of interest to many friends in the West End communities, was made Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Clark, 562 First avenue, when they revealed the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Clark, and Claude Wick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wick of Danvers, Ill., who have spent the winter here with their son on Tenth avenue.

The guests were invited to an informal birthday dinner in honor of Miss Clark's birthday anniversary, and the interesting news of the betrothal was revealed when the dessert course was served, the names of the happy couple being found on the ice cream moulds. No date for the wedding was announced.

The dinner table was centered with a handsomely decorated pink and white birthday cake, and quantities of spring flowers were used in the house decorations.

Attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wick of Danvers, Ill., Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Logan, of Ontario; Mrs. Helen Hamner and baby John; Miss Mary Clark and her fiance, Claude Wick, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Clark.

As-You-Like-It Club Presents Varied Program

A program that included a wide variety of subjects, all of special interest, was enjoyed during the meeting of the As-You-Like-It club held Friday afternoon, when the members gathered at the home of Mrs. F. W. Palmer, 376 Euclid avenue.

Counteracting the chill of the welcome April showers, a glowing fire gave cozy comfort in the large living room, which was brightened with spring flowers.

For the roll call the members were given the privilege of responding with any fact of interest, current events, bits of information, etc.

The lesson in literature was presented by Mrs. Leon Durham, who discussed Brockton Brown and his fiction writings, and also devoted considerable time to Edgar Allan Poe and his writings. In a careful study of Poe's life and the influences surrounding his early years, Mrs. Durham was able to present the erratic poet in a more favorable light than that in which he usually is viewed, and she made a careful analysis of some of his works, revealing something of their beauty and inner meaning.

The travelogue was given by Mrs. E. A. Magill, who told many interesting things about Germany. Mrs. Magill's parents were born in Germany, coming to America in their early years, and from their childhood experiences Mrs. Magill was able to give intimate glimpses of German family life. She also gave descriptions of many interesting places in that country and reviewed some of the major events of German history.

Altogether, the program was one of unusual interest for the study club, whose programs always are of educational value.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson, Mrs. Leon Durham, Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Miss Sinabel Hart, Mrs. Frank M. Baxter, Mrs. M. E. Titus, Mrs. W. H. Andrews, Mrs. Lansing T. Vedder, Mrs. E. A. Magill, Miss Bertha Palmer, Mrs. Arabella Powell, Mrs. C. K. Francisco, Mrs. Etta Johnston, and Mrs. F. W. Palmer.

Ask the Librarian

For fear a number of the local library staff should be in the painful position of having to expose her ignorance in the matter, the following article from the Library Journal is quoted, with due credit to the Toledo Public library staff which has scores of interesting difficult-to-answer questions presented.

"Why can't a man dig through to China?" "The obvious answer would be, it would cost too much. But obvious answers are too frequently misleading. After delving into the tomes of the Main Library, we find that if we were to start out, spade in hand, to drop in on the Chinese, we'd also to wear asbestos zipper suits for, as we scratched through the dirt in our backyard, things would begin to warm up (not only 3960.4 more miles to go to phere in the pit we were sinking) until at the three-mile-level we'd find that the temperature had gone up to 250 degrees Fahrenheit, and we'd have only 3960.4 mire miles to go to reach the earth's center—the halfway mark of our pilgrimage to the Orient!"

U. of C. Presents Pictorial Report on Local Conditions to Library

Covering the entire state of California, four beautifully colored maps showing soil classification, were sent the local library this week from the division of soil technology, University of California.

A streak of light yellow, starting from the mouth of San Antonio canyon, probably, comes down through Upland to about Fourth street, Ontario, and represents excellent soil, with a rating of 80 to 100. Extending east and west of Upland, pretty well up, then taking in Ontario and all the grapeland around east and south of Upland and Ontario, the country is orange color and rates 60 to 79, which means good soil.

Up towards the mountains on the west is a plot of green, with a rating of 40 to 59, fair soil. A shade of blue, Cucamonga wash or thereabouts, means poor soil, rating 20 to 39. Balancing the blue is a streak of deep purple, probably the west wash, with a rating of 10 to 19, meaning very poor soil. Non-agricultural land—rating less than 10—is designated by a shade of pink and is mountainous country.

Evidently all top soil washed down to Pomona and Chino, both low land, for their rating is 80 to 100. Claremont rates 60 to 79.

The Stomie index method has been used for this survey. To rate a soil properly, one must know the texture, degree of development of profile, depth to hardpan or bedrock, and drainage or erosion conditions. It is a most interesting survey and one that is worth while studying.

Choir Program One Of Best Ever Given. View of Methodists

"One of the best concerts ever presented in Upland," was the expression of many persons who were in the Methodist church Sunday night. The church choir appeared in a program of sacred music, assisted by Mrs. Fannie Gay at the concole of the organ. In addition to the prelude, Mrs. Gay played two organ solos which were received very warmly by the congregation. Mrs. Ralph J. Wilson very ably directed the large choir in the program.

Occasion for the program was the first anniversary of the installation of the organ in the church. Walter Moffitt, choir president, informally spoke and Rev. Paul Huebner, minister, delivered a brief message.

Appearing in solo numbers were Miss Elizabeth Wright and Francis Wilson. Mr. Wilson and Miss Lorene Lamphear appeared in incidental solo parts also.

A trio, including Mrs. Lewis Jenison, Walter Moffitt and Bert Hendy, was also featured as were the male chorus and the ladies chorus.

FINGERPRINTING WEEK IS PLANNED

Efforts Made to Create More Interest in Identification Here

Efforts are being made to arouse more interest among the general public in fingerprinting. National Fingerprinting Week will be observed from April 20 to 25.

This city has facilities for recording individual's fingerprints, Judge D. J. Burlingame being well qualified to take the prints and to handle all details in giving persons identification cards if the cards are desired. No charge is made for the service.

Purpose of the movement is to fingerprint citizens and forward the copies to Washington, D. C., where they will be filed in civil files for identification use.

These fingerprints are in no way connected or checked against the criminal files and are used solely for the purpose of personal identity.

Due to the large number of amnesia victims, missing persons and unidentified dead each year, Governor F. F. Merriam has set aside one week to encourage people to have their fingerprints recorded.
